Insights Into the Beauty of Our Hymns

The hymns with which we praise God are poems set to music. Whether the poet sat down and wrote words to a melody he knew, or music was written later is a toss-up. My first point is that the poet has story to tell, a message to share, a prayer to offer, or a Bible verse to illuminate. He or she is a craftsman, take time to notice their work.

If you've never done so, the next time you have a hymnal notice that the author of a hymn is seldom the composer of the music. The music often has its own title and its own life. For instance, we all know LSB 805, as "Praise God from Whom All Blessings Flow;" but the organist knows it as "Old Hundredth." "Old Hundredth" is written in Long Meter (LM); this tells the organist or the pastor or music committee that "Praise God..." can be sung to any other setting of Long Meter. To make life easier for musical people a Metrical Index for our hymns is at the back of our Service Book.

Try it. When no one is listening, sing "Praise God..." to the melody called "Duke Street" (you know it from "I Know That My Redeemer Lives" LSB 461).

Hymns are ecumenical, they cross denominational lines. Many of our hymns are translations, they cross cultural lines. Hymn 454 in LSB, is a Latin Good Friday hymn; it's been sung since the 6th century!

When we studied poetry in high school, we learned about meter, internal and external rhyme, alliteration and assonance. English poetry relies on sound, on the beauty and diversity of our words—made even more beautiful by the music. Take as an example the 17th century poem by Samuel Crossman (#430).

My song is love unknown,
My Savior's love to me,
Love to the loveless shown
That they might lovely be.
Oh, who am I
That for my sake
My Lord should take
Frail flesh and die?

Older English language hymns are occasionally modernized: thee and thou are frequently replaced by you and your. There's no rule that requires us to address God with Shakespearean pronouns. Thee and thou is simply an archaic form of address. For that matter there is no rule requiring that every reference to God be capitalized. To print the pronouns he, him and his in lower case is standard English practice. The pronoun "I" is the exception.

You may want to look at LSB 680, “Thine the Amen...” Herb Brokering is one of our more modern hymn writers. In this hymn he doesn’t use punctuation! Here, Herb is not into crafting full sentences; he is presenting a collage of images; the Church at worship, Christians kneeling at altar rail, the ringing of bells, the lifting of the cup. He relies on the sound of words and the juxtaposition of pictures.

In the first line of LSB 680 Brokering contrasts the praises of the Church on earth with those of the angels in heaven. He presents the headship of Jesus over his Church, with the servanthood of Jesus in his Church at the “breaking of the bread.” Words like “harvest and cup” suggest Jesus’ story instead of tell it.

And let’s not be blind, Brokering uses the archaic terms Thee and Thine, capitalizing them throughout the hymn. He knows better. Perhaps it’s his way of saying that the Church today is same Church that existed in years, if not millennia, past. “We believe in one holy catholic and apostolic Church” which exists through all time.

Finally you will want to notice our hymns point us to Christ and God. The hymns in Lutheran Service Book are not about us, and very seldom about our feelings and wants. Our hymns lift up the Gospel of Jesus Christ and set our sights on heaven. That’s as it should be.

“Now” let us “thank we all our God with hearts and hands and voices.”

Pr. Steve

Call Committee Update

Please continue to pray for all involved in the call process and especially for the new pastor as we are awaiting additional names from the District. As we continue to say, this can be a long process. Have faith in it and our Lord and Savior, Jesus Christ.

Blessings on your day!

Stewardship Committee Report

“For even the Son of Man came not to be served but to serve others and to give his life as a ransom for many.” Mark 10:45

The Stewardship Committee meets on the 4th Sunday of the month after the 10:30am service.

Our current committee members are:

Here are some of the items the Stewardship team is working on.

Praying in Color: This team supports those congregation members who are in need of prayer. If you know of anyone who may need this ministry or would like to join this ministry, please reach out to Eileen St. Clair

First Time Visits with Local Guests: This ministry visits guests in the Myrtle Beach area who join us for worship. We encourage everyone to reach out and welcome anyone who joins us for service. Welcome Packets are available in the Narthex to provide information to them about Holy Lamb. If anyone wants to join the team, please contact Dave or Cheryl Bingham.

Visitor Thank You Card Outreach: To date, for 2024 we've sent out 8 thank you cards to out of town visitors who've joined us for Worship Service. We want to plant seeds to those who've joined in hopes that they'll visit us again in the future. We ask everyone to reach out and welcome anyone who joins us for service.

Family Reads – Please join us for our next book cleaning on Saturday, March 30th from 10am – noon. Any and all are welcome to help us clean books to give to Forrest Brook Elementary School. The books are given away to support children reading. This is a wonderful opportunity to come together in fellowship for a good cause. We are also in need of gently used children's books. If you know anyone who has children's books in good condition and would like to donate them, we are collecting them in the narthex under the table.

Day Trip Opportunity: This is an opportunity to get to know and fellowship with other members of Holy Lamb. The Georgetown Waterfront Historical trip has been postponed and will be rescheduled when summer tours are available. Watch for the sign-up sheet in the Narthex.

If you have any ideas or are interested in joining us, please let us know.

In His Service,

Cheryl Bingham, Chairperson

Volunteers Needed Ushers (both services)

Audio and Video (both services)

Our church relies on volunteers to help us run our worship services smoothly. Without you, it would be difficult to do the many things we need to do. We are in need of volunteers to run the sound system (8am and 10:30am) and video (10:30am) services. Just one hour a month is all we're asking ~ male or female. Please volunteer!

Please consider helping out with this important part of our worship services. We could always use more ushers for both services too, especially 10:30am.

Contact Bill Steele if you can help.

Men's Fellowship

The Men's Fellowship group will meet on Tuesday, May 14th, at 11:30 am. All men are welcome to join them.

Family Game Night

The next family game night is Saturday May 4th, from 4pm-7pm. Please bring a finger food to share. Bring your favorite game or plan to learn a new one.
